DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to details of a circuit for controlling how information is handled at an entrance or exit of a switch, classified in class 370 subclass 359.
 - II. Claims 15-16, drawn to connection negotiation, classified in class 370, subclass 395.2.
 - III. Claim 17-25, drawn to an apparatus to implement a supervisory function necessary for proper switching, classified in class 370, subclass 360.
 - IV. Claim 26-27, drawn to the determination that the selected channel with have the lowest delay, classified in class 370, subclass 238.
 - V. Claims 28-35, drawn to a switching network that establishes a path between two or more terminals, classified in class 370, subclass 357.
 - VI. Claims 36-39, drawn to a switching system consisting of two or more switching elements, classified in class 370, subclass 388.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I, II, III, IV, V, and VI are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as the details of a single switch, subcombination II has separate utility such as connection request and establishment in a switch, subcombination III has separate utility such as the details of a module controller in a switch, subcombination IV has separate utility such as selecting a path with the least switching delay, subcombination V has separate utility such as the details on a constellation comprising a plurality of switches, subcombination VI has separate utility such as the details of a network of constellations. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
